A Motivational Speaker Who Inspires Breakthrough Performance at Work and in Life[®]

I'm a business-motivational speaker, consultant, author and coach. However, I'm not your typical "rah-rah" motivational speaker.

> Yes, I create excitement and the audience has fun, but in addition to inspiring and energizing, I deliver a longremembered, differentiated meeting experience by providing ideas and practical, immediately applicable tools that get lasting results.

With every presentation, my goals are to deliver exceptional value, generate a positive ROI for my clients and help people live and work at the highest level possible—in High Definition.

> "Your material was timely, your understanding of our business was outstanding and very skillfully applied, you had wonderful energy and I filled a notepad with ideas. I hope the standing ovation showed you how much we loved it!" – Old Republic Home Protection

> Our members appreciated both the inspiration and information they can use to engage their staff, lead like an Olympic Coach and dream big! In fact, they "demanded" we have you back as our closing motivational keynote speaker next year. – American Academy of Medical Administrators
